

Forget me not

Ilona Mrgole

It's 21st March and today is the first day of spring. I missed it so much.

I actually still do.

The spring in me.

That time when I will blossom again.

It's hard when you are afraid to leave some things behind, but you know that it's the best for you.

When you find balance in all this chaos, everything will come into place.

It will bring you to the state where you can embrace the change and let go of the past.

And when the past stays in the past, the snowflake won't only wait for the spring, but will naturally melt into the new chapter of the natural movement of the season.

Let's blossom.
